

FIG. 46.—Globigerina bulloides, from the surface.

shell is clear and transparent, and each of the pores which penetrate it is surrounded by a raised crest, the crest round adja-