

PLATE XXXIII.

Fig. A. Macrurus carinatus (page 137).

Near Prince Edward Island, Station 145A; depth, 310 fathoms (not 500 as stated on plate).

Fig. B. Bathypterois quadrifilis (page 189).

Off the coast of Brazil, Stations 121 and 126; depth 500 to 770 fathoms. With separate views of the upper side of the head, and of the ventral fins; also enlarged views to two scales, one taken from the middle of the side, and the other, which is pectinated, from the post-pectoral region.