

Name.	Distribution of the Order, Genus, or Species.
PORTULACÆÆ.
* Claytonia	One species endemic in Australasia, and numerous species in America, from the Antarctic regions to North America.
ELATINÆÆ.
* Elatine americana	Australasia, Fiji Islands, North and South America.
TILIACÆÆ.
* Aristotelia	One species in Chili, the rest in Australasia and Polynesia.
GERANIACÆÆ.
* Geranium sessiliflorum	Australasia, Fuegia, and Chili.
* Pelargonium	Numerous in South Africa and two or three in Australasia, one of which also occurs in Tristan da Cunha.
* Oxalis magellanica	Australasia, Fuegia, and South Chili.
RHAMNÆÆ.
* Discaria	One endemic species in New Zealand, one in Australia, and several in South America.
CORIARIÆÆ.
Coriaria thymifolia	New Zealand and South America.
„ ruscifolia	New Zealand and adjacent islands, and very common in Chili.
LEGUMINOSÆÆ.
* Sophora tetraptera	Australasia, Polynesia, and South America.
ROSACÆÆ.
* Acena	Australasia, Sandwich Islands, all the islands from the Macdonald group and Amsterdam to Tristan da Cunha, Cape Horn to California, and in the Sandwich Islands. * Acena adscendens is found in New Zealand and Fuegia, and the islands of the South Indian Ocean.
* Geum	Allied species in Tasmania, New Zealand, and Fuegia.
Eucryphia	Endemic species in Tasmania, Australia, and Chili.
SAXIFRAGÆÆ.
* Donatia	One species in Australasia and one in Fuegia.
* Weinmannia	One species in Tasmania, two in New Zealand, many in South America, especially in the Andes, and several in the Mascarene Islands and Polynesia.
CRASSULACÆÆ.
Tillæa moschata	New Zealand and adjacent islands, Kerguelen, Marion, and Falkland Islands, Fuegia and Chili.
Tillæa verticillata	Australasia and Chili.
DROSERACÆÆ.
* Drosera	The Australasian Drosera arcturi is very nearly related to the Fuegian Drosera uniflora .
HALORAGÆÆ.
Haloragis alata	New Zealand and Juan Fernandez.
* Myriophyllum elatinooides	Australia and Chili.
* „ variaefolium	Australasia and South America.
* Gunnera	Australasia, South Africa, and America, from Fuegia and Juan Fernandez to Mexico.