

PLATE XXIV.

HYPERAMMINA.—MARSIPELLA.

	Diam.	Page
Figures 1-9.— Hyperammina vagans , Brady, . . . . . Figs. 1, 2. Specimens adherent to fragments of shell. Figs. 3-5. Primordial chambers of specimens found in Globigerina ooze. Figs. 6-9. Masses formed of the tubes irregularly crowded together.	× 15	260
,, 10-19.— Marsipella elongata , Norman, . . . . . Figs. 10-17. Specimens illustrating the range of form, and the variable proportion of sand and sponge- spicules employed in building the test, . . . . . Figs. 18, 19. Portions of the surface more highly magnified, . . . . .	× 15  × 60	264
,, 20-22.— Marsipella cylindrica , Brady, . . . . .	× 15	265